KEY LEARNING

The classic favorite returns this year with an augmented focus on the intricate areas for injections to help you understand the anatomy that lies beneath and avoid complications. The workshop will cover the topographical anatomy for injections in the nose, upper face, midface, lower face and neck. The sessions will also delve into the anatomical structures that are crucial for procedures such as threads, fat injection and genital treatment.

This is the perfect opportunity to review your anatomical references and gain a visual understanding of "what lies beneath", so that you apply the optimum techniques to the right areas and avoid the danger zones.
