After the great success of last year, the Young Dermatologists sessions return in 2020 and have been specially designed to cover the topics most sought-after by our peers. This 5-hour series of sessions will begin with presentations by world-renowned speakers sharing their practical knowledge on the key elements in clinical, aesthetic and surgical dermatology, along with elaborations on lasers and dermoscopy. The series will conclude with a ‘Young Derm Awards’ session where Young Dermatologists present their research and clinical cases to a high-profile jury and compete for an award.

These sessions represent a noteworthy opportunity for young practitioners. Not only do the sessions propose a high-level educational content, they also stimulate an intergenerational and international exchange of information. It’s your chance to form essential connections with peers and showcase your growing expertise to a world-wide audience.

After the great success of last year, the Young Surgeons sessions return in 2020 and have been specially designed to cover the topics most sought-after by our peers. This 5-hour series of sessions will begin with presentations by world-renowned speakers delving into the surgical details behind procedures for the breast and pinna, as well as an overview of common aesthetic interventions such as fillers & toxins to hone complementary skills to achieve the best results. The series will conclude with a ‘Young Surgeons Awards’ session where Young Surgeons present their research and clinical cases to a high-profile jury and compete for an award.

These sessions represent a noteworthy opportunity for young practitioners. Not only do the sessions propose a high-level educational content, they also stimulate an intergenerational and international exchange of information.
